Here at Back To Basics, we use many different means of media to help with the education of our students. Educational computer software, as well as V-tech educational video games can be used during free play times noted in our schedule. Television is used briefly during lunch clean up time, right before nap and is also done with educational learning programs. Media use is strictly used only during times noted on our schedule as free play time, and for no longer than 20 minutes per session, per child.

I understand the policy of Back To Basics Family Preschool and I do / do not give permission for my child to use or view the following:

All children must be provided with an alternate activity once the child/children lose interest in the media activity.
